

FEEL BRAVE

Little stories about BIG feelings

Presented by Avril McDonald

"Avril - I have loved using your books and the creative strategies suggested to bring about positive change for the children I work with! All of the children have made very positive comments about both the books, feelings cards and techniques used to teach them new concepts (we are making a lot of cheeky monkeys and wise owls at the moment!). I'm so excited for you! You have created a resource that resonates with children - what a gift!"

- Dr Nicole Carvill - THINK Psychologists Australia

"Avril led fantastic sessions for our KS1 classes and a KS2 assembly. The characters in her stories truly come to life and the messages they convey are so important to the emotional wellbeing of young children. I highly recommend Avril and her Feel Brave series to address issues such as self-confidence, anxiety and worries. The sessions were interactive and pitched perfectly."

- Francesca Leenen, Year 3 Teacher - All Saints Church of England Primary School

"The Feel Brave stories provide teachers with a valuable hook on which to address critical issues in children's lives such as friendship, anxiety and loss. Conversations about such topics can be tricky to manage so it is essential that discussions take place in a safe and positive environment. The activities Avril demonstrates offer both creative and cooperative strategies for building resilience, confidence and emotional literacy and are easy for teachers to incorporate in their classes. The earlier that children learn to understand their emotional selves and how important it is to support each other through challenging times the better for their future wellbeing. Well done Avril, this is a brilliant and very welcome resource."

- Dr Sue Roffey, Director Wellbeing Australia Adjunct Assoc.

Presented by Avril McDonald

THE PERFORMANCE - STAGE 1 CHILDREN

Using the characters and stories created through her “Feel Brave” series of books, Avril McDonald presents an engaging programme that helps children build their emotional literacy and wellbeing.

Avril explains how the Feel Brave characters were born from scraps in a cupboard after her daughter had a nightmare that they then made into a new story. She shows how the characters have developed into what they are today and uses ‘The Wolf is NOT Invited’ to help children build their own self confidence and resilience in dealing with being excluded. She leads the children in an exercise that they can use anytime they want to if they feel lonely or sad by thinking of all of the people and things they love.

Avril works with the children to start to build their emotional literacy with a fun and interactive game called ‘Can you guess how I feel?’ Avril gets the children excited about making up their own new and fun stories about things that make them feel anxious. They brainstorm ways to share their own worries and learn some simple ways to self-regulate their emotions.

Avril finishes her session with ‘The Wolf’s Colourful Coat’ which presents a bullying situation to children and helps them feel comfortable ‘telling someone they trust’ if they feel bullied. She demonstrates how the children can practise empathy every day (which plays a vital role in preventing bullying). Avril leaves the children with a stretching poem that they can use as ‘1 dose per day’ towards cultivating their emotional wellbeing.

Avril also presents an optional 20 minute Parent and/or Teacher presentation and Q&A session where she talks about how to integrate emotional wellbeing strategies into a child’s every day (both at home and at school) and gives 5 key take home strategies to try.

Performance Requirements:

Projector or smartboard for visual presentation. Whiteboard and markers for brainstorm.

Pack up/Setup: 15 minutes

Children to be seated theatre style with a centre aisle.

THE PERFORMER

Avril McDonald is the author of the Feel Brave Series of Books (little stories about big feelings for 4 – 7-year olds). Each book tells a story about a real-life situation that children may face and offers a very simple strategy to cope with it. The books are well loved all around the world and are being translated into many different languages including Chinese. They are also being adapted into an animated series and she is making the Feel Brave music with one of the world’s largest music labels. Avril is a trained primary school teacher, business woman and a mum. She is an experienced presenter having presented the Feel Brave show to thousands of children around the world and is the winner of the 2017 UK’s ‘People’s Book Prize’. She created a free wellbeing programme for children which is actively being used in more than 250 schools across 10 countries. She is the patron of the Westminster Children’s University in the UK and official partner of the Life Education Trust New Zealand who use all of her stories and resources to teach emotional wellbeing in their mobile classrooms. Avril also regularly writes and speaks about how to cultivate emotional wellbeing with children in global educational and lifestyle magazines and publications.
